

Waiting When People are Talking

Hi, I'm _____! I love talking to people.

Sometimes when I want to talk to someone they are busy. They might be talking on the phone or talking to another person.

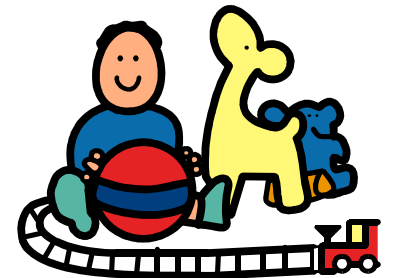

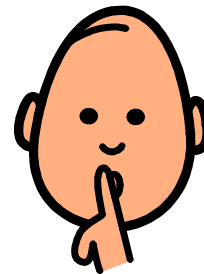

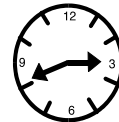

When I start to talk to someone who is busy talking on the phone or to another person, it is called interrupting. Interrupting is not polite.

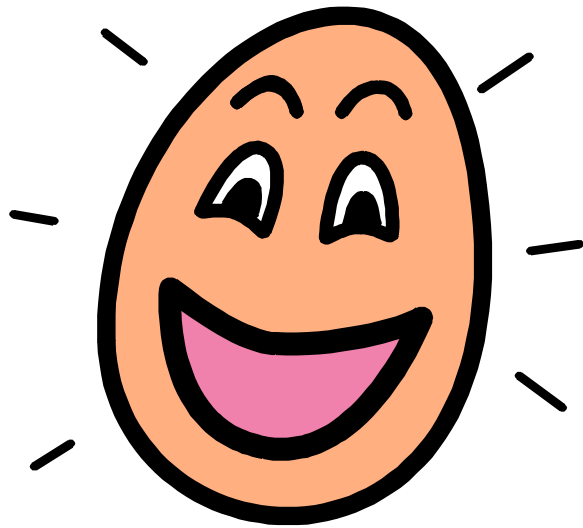

When I interrupt my mommy or daddy or teachers, it makes them feel frustrated.

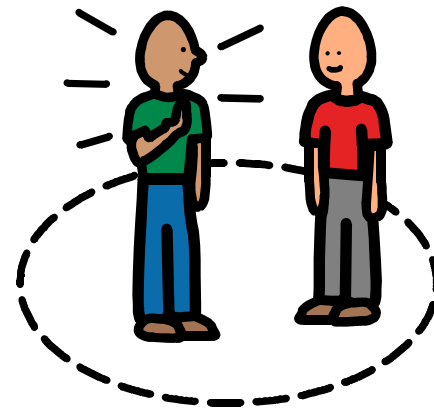

When other people are busy talking, it's important that I wait quietly until they are finished. I could play quietly with a toy while I am waiting.

That will make my mommy,
daddy, and teachers very happy!

When they are finished talking with each other, it will be my turn to talk! That will make me feel happy.

I will try to wait quietly when other people are busy talking. I know I can do it!
